INTRODUCTION

New Orleans' bond with water is as long as it is diverse. It surrounds us. It shapes our City. When we're thirsty, we tap it. When it's dirty, we clean it. When it rains, we move it. But in the end, it's all water. One Water. For our team as the SWBNO, the difference is only that we manage it in different ways.

For 120 years, SWBNO has served the City, providing quality water, sewer, and drainage services to keep its residents safe and healthy.

Our efforts to treat drinking water, clean wastewater, and move stormwater take foresight, teamwork, and sound financial planning. They also rely on learning from the past. These attributes, applied together, give SWBNO our vision for growth and improvement in 2022.

Last year forced us to double down on our commitment to the family, friends, and neighbors we serve every day. In the face of a global pandemic and Hurricane Ida, which struck our region as a Category 4 storm, our employees showed up day in and day out to ensure our customers continued to have safe drinking water, wastewater treatment, and stormwater management. We adapted to a new way of life in order to fulfill our mission. As public servants, we knew there was no other way.

2022 will be a monumental year for this utility as we move toward the future of our power generation ability. The progress we make this year will have an unmistakable impact on the future of this City and agency for decades to come. We are keeping our eyes to the future through continuing major initiatives like our Strategic Plan, Rate Study, and Automated Metering Infrastructure. The goal of these initiatives is singular: to serve our customers better.

Through linking and leveraging relationships with our stakeholders – Mayor LaToya Cantrell, community leaders, elected officials at all levels, non-profits, and industry experts – there is nothing we can't accomplish.

While there will be challenges along the way, the future of this agency is bright. We will continue to mirror the adaptability and flexibility of the backbone of this utility – water – to chart a clear path forward.

Priorities

The 2022 budget is our most recent roadmap for the future of this utility. While the COVID-19 pandemic forced us to make tough decisions, it has not and will not cause us to take our eyes off the horizon for the future. Adaptability is now the name of the game and we are more committed than ever to finding creative solutions to continuing our vision for creating a state-of-the-art utility.

Strategic Plan Implementation

Implement strategic plan. Focus our efforts for the first 18 months on implementing components of the strategic plan and identify actionable strategies in each of the strategic plan focus areas.

Recruitment and Hiring

Diligently fill vacancies. New Orleans is a highly competitive labor market. SWBNO is challenged to attract and retain talented employees for skilled trades and other specialty positions, especially as compared to the organizations in the private sector.

Workforce Development

Conduct customer service leadership workshops to ensure managers and supervisors possess the necessary technical, behavioral, and mind-set skills required to contribute to organizational goals and employee success. Onboard continuous training curriculum for all customer facing personnel.

Smart Metering

SWBNO's water meters are read manually, which leads to estimated bills when the meters can't be accessed or read by SWBNO's team. We are now in the midst of a citywide project to convert all our water meters to smart meters that measure consumption at every customer property. This will greatly enhance the accuracy of our billing data, reduce the chance for error and, inject reliability into one of our core missions- customer service.

Commitment to Customer Service

Advance proactive communication and outreach programs. Expand convenience systems and capabilities to improve self-service options for customers.

Procure Asset and Financial Management Systems

Replace existing financial information system, work order, and asset management systems to improve the efficiency of our processes. It is vital for high-functioning organizations to maintain technology tools that meet operational needs.

Rate Study

Examine the efficacy of our rates for water and sewer service, as well as any innovative funding options for stormwater management.

Modernized Power Generation Systems

Along with challenges brought on by a global pandemic, we also faced critical challenges with our power generation systems. That is why we are looking to the future and aggressively executing a plan for a West Power Complex that will house a dedicated Entergy substation, local electric and gas provider, and a new turbine,-"T7."

MESSAGE FROM THE EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR

They say if you want to understand an organization's priorities, look at its budget. By committing resources, budgets turn aspirations into accomplishments. Our 2022 spending plan funds deliberate steps toward stable, reliable operations in a properly staffed and compensated workplace.

This year's budget commits resources to high return-on-investment upgrades where we can make them and maintenance of aging systems where we cannot. In the pages to follow, you will see:

- Preventative maintenance and repair dollars secured within the operating budget.
- The establishment of a formal $1.5 million Emergency/Contingency Fund.
- Ongoing sewer renovation supported by the largest Water Infrastructure Finance and Innovation Act (WIFIA) loan the EPA has ever awarded, secured by our team this year.
- Implementation of a Smart Metering Program that will revolutionize how we read meters, bill customers, and provide service.
- Construction of the West Power Complex to bring reliable power to our water and drainage systems.

In addition to improving infrastructure and operations, this year's budget invests in our most valuable resource – our employees. It includes a $2.7 million compensation adjustment to establish a $15 minimum wage across the utility. To make ends meet through the coronavirus pandemic, the 2021 budget eliminated nearly all funded vacancies. This budget restores funding for critical vacant positions, and it initiates additional funding for over 100 new positions. In continued commitment to workforce development, it creates centralized funding for employee training.

Although we have set ambitious goals for ourselves, they are achievable. Momentous change takes time, and I am proud to put it in alongside my colleagues.

Yours in service,

Ghassan Korban, PE

Executive Director, Sewerage and Water Board of New Orleans.

LETTER FROM THE CHIEF FINANCIAL OFFICER

Greetings to the Honorable Mayor Cantrell, the Board of Directors, and the citizens of New Orleans:

While the year 2021 brought continued challenges, it was a historic time for New Orleans and our utility. This region is receiving unmatched federal attention and gearing up for once-in-a-lifetime investments.

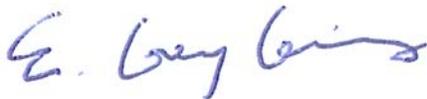

In that spirit, it is my honor to present the adopted 2022 operating and capital budget document for the Sewerage and Water Board of New Orleans.

The impacts of a global pandemic forced tough decisions and budget cuts in 2021. Although the effects were painful, I believe the experience prompted us to strategize and innovate with scarce resources. Now, we are in a better position to renew investments into the highest priorities of the organization—enhancing customer service, improving our staff's experience, and updating our aging infrastructure.

Thanks to the tireless efforts and steadfast leadership of Mayor LaToya Cantrell, we remain in a position to bring massive upgrades to the water systems that serve New Orleans. SWBNO is poised to focus on new technology, tools, and best practices to generate a strong, high-performing organization whose values reflect the community we serve. I am optimistic about the future of SWBNO as we strive to be responsive to our customers, increase the resiliency of our infrastructure, and provide high-quality, sustainable services to the City of New Orleans.

I want to thank our Board of Directors and our customers for their dedication throughout this time of change. Our employees also deserve deep gratitude. They have tirelessly served through some of the most trying times in recent history.

Sincerely,

E. Grey Lewis

Chief Financial Officer, Sewerage and Water Board of New Orleans

THE SEWERAGE AND WATER BOARD, A BRIEF HISTORY

The history of New Orleans has been shaped by water, and Sewerage and Water Board (SWBNO) has played an integral role since its founding in 1899. It merged with the Drainage Commission in 1903 and ever since has cared for the city's water, sewer and drainage systems.

Today, it produces drinking water, cleans wastewater, and moves stormwater for 391,000 residents. The work is massive and complex. On average, our customers consume 112.52 million gallons of water everyday produced at our two water plants in Carrollton and Algiers.

The utility is entering the final stages of a federal mandate to upgrade the sewer system. That will bring greater efficiency and safety to how it collects, treats and returns safely to the environment 147 million gallons of clean water a day through its two treatment plants. We received federal funding to help finance this work through a loan program sponsored by the Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) known as the Water Infrastructure Finance Investment Appropriation (WIFIA).

The drainage system boasts 99 major drainage pumps, 21 constant-duty pumps to manage groundwater intrusion in its canals, 24 pump stations, 200 miles of canals and another 1,500 miles of underground drainage pipes. This infrastructure does not include the hundreds of miles of small-diameter drainage pipes and thousands of catch basins maintained by the City's Department of Public Works.

The growth of stormwater management paced the growth of New Orleans. As new pump stations were built and new canals dug, so expanded the city to its present-day limits between the river and the lake.

SWBNO is unique in that it can produce its own power. Four turbine generators and five electro-motive diesel generators can manufacture 25 Hz electricity, the frequency necessary to instead run those water and drainage pumps built prior to the widespread use of today's modern 60 Hz electricity. This utility has another generator that can produce 15 megawatts of today's frequency of power, too.

These systems are testaments to SWBNO's resiliency. For instance, the first drainage pump station was built in 1900, and it still functions today, with much of its original equipment. So, too, does its power turbines, the first of which dates to President Theodore Roosevelt's administration.

But that longevity comes with a toll. 25Hz power is not standard. Electric power utilities in the United States provide 60Hz power. Consequently, the SWBNO facilities that use 25Hz electricity cannot be supplied by Entergy, the local power utility. No vendors in the US market 25Hz power-generation equipment. Because 25Hz generators must be custom-designed and built, failed equipment cannot be replaced in a timely manner.

Self-generation of 25Hz power is much more expensive than 60Hz power that can be supplied by Entergy. A significant portion of the SWBNO's 25Hz power generation comes from steam-driven turbines. The operation of an aged steam power plant for the typical electrical power needs of SWBNO is extremely inefficient and results in a much greater carbon footprint compared to purchased 60Hz power.

It has become increasingly difficult to find replacement parts for 25Hz, and the pool of qualified repair technicians is very small. Without parts and the qualified people to make repairs, critical 25Hz equipment cannot be kept in service. The result is a continued loss in resiliency of the 25Hz power-generation system with the passage of time.

A major rainstorm in 2017 revealed that as many as 18 stormwater and groundwater pumps had fallen into disrepair and that the utility's self-generated power supply could produce less than half the megawatts necessary for the drainage system to function at full capacity.

Roughly half the water distribution system is more than 80 years old and beyond its life expectancy. As a result, our teams respond to water main breaks on a regular basis.

These challenges, however, also create opportunities. Responding to the 2017 flood, we spent 2018 restoring the drainage and power systems to their best conditions in decades. In 2019, we stabilized our finances and operations; reduced our vacant positions; and began productive discussions of what true progress looks like for SWBNO. In 2020, we were constrained by the COVID-19 pandemic but made sure to put our customer's health and safety first by putting a water shutoff moratorium in place to make sure everyone had access to clean water and providing wastewater treatment and stormwater management. Even though we were impacted by Hurricane Ida in 2021, we responded to more than 20,000 work orders, treated 56 billion gallons of waters for drinking, and closed on 275 million WIFIA loan for sewer projects.

Sewerage and Water Board Organizational Chart

SWBNO is committed to optimizing its organizational structure and ensuring appropriate staffing levels. The current organizational structure is shown below with seven Chief Officers who report to the Executive Director regarding Finance, Administration, Operations, Customer Service, Special Counsel, Communications, and Chief of Staff.

Strategic Plan

The Sewerage and Water Board of New Orleans, like many utilities, has long faced challenges: operational, financial, geographic, and workforce-based, to name a few. In 2021, the utility initiated a strategic planning process to serve as a catalyst for organizational change and to guide the next phase of rebuilding the organization for the future. This plan will guide organizational goals, support budget development, and direct progress monitoring in the organization's long-term focus areas.

While the SWBNO did not have a strategic plan prior to this effort, considerable activities were underway across the organization to improve operations, resiliency, and customer satisfaction. Specific goals for the project included:

- Building trust among internal and external stakeholders
- Developing actionable strategies and measurable objectives
- Increasing communication and collaboration across the organization

To ensure that existing initiatives and plans were considered within the context of the strategic planning initiative, SWBNO's planning process involved input from a broad group of internal and external stakeholders. Major elements of the engagement process included:

- Interviews and work sessions with SWBNO's Board of Directors and The Board's strategy committee
- Interviews and work sessions with the Executive Director and leadership team
- Six employee focus groups and an employee survey with more than 325 respondents
- Individual and group interviews with key stakeholders, including SWBNO Customer Advisory Committee, Greater New Orleans Foundation, GNO, INC., Water Wise Gulf South, and the Urban Conservancy New Orleans.

Strategic Framework

The strategic framework, based on an extensive strategic planning process that considers both SWBNO's present circumstances and its future goals, will serve as a blueprint for decision-making moving forward. It contains a vision, mission statement, and values that address SWBNO's current challenges and help ensure continued success in operations and the management of resources and assets.

FINANCIAL OVERVIEW, STRUCTURE AND BUDGET PROCESS

2022 OPERATING BUDGET

Like many utilities throughout the nation, SWBNO is challenged to support an expansive and aging infrastructure. This infrastructure, as well as the associated regulatory and staffing needs, has and will continue to increase utility costs. SWBNO's primary funding sources for utility operations and capital projects are the water and sewer rates and drainage millages. Two years ago, SWBNO completed a series of yearly approved water and sewer rate increases. The agency is currently under contract with a rate consultant to propose new rates in late 2022 or early 2023.

2022 Operating Expenses ($310.4 m)

The Board's principal activities of providing water, sewerage, and drainage services are accounted for in a single proprietary fund — the Enterprise Fund. The Enterprise Fund is composed of three (3) independent systems: Water, Sewerage, and Drainage systems are used to report business activities. Since the Enterprise Fund is the Board's single activity, its financial statements are presented as the Board's government-wide financial statements.

The Board's financial statements are prepared on an accrual basis in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America (GAAP) as applied to government units. Under this basis of accounting, revenues are recognized in the period in which they are earned, expenses are recognized in the period in which they are incurred, and depreciation of property, plant, and equipment is recognized in the Statements of Revenues, Expenses, and Changes in Net Position.

All assets and liabilities associated with the operation of the Board are included in the Statements of Net Position. The Statement of Net Position presents financial information on all the Board's assets, liabilities, and deferred inflows/outflows of resources, with the difference reported as net position. Over time, increases and decreases in net position may serve as a useful indicator of whether the financial position of the Board is improving or deteriorating.

SWBNO has prepared its 2022 Budget on an accrual basis in conformity with Generally Accepted Accounting Principles (GAAP). On a GAAP basis, total expenses during 2022 are projected to be about $454 million. On a cash flow requirement basis, which includes operating and maintenance costs, principal and interest on debt service, and pay-go, SWBNO expects to spend roughly $310.4 million. Excess revenues above these expenses are required for bond covenant and debt service ratios and may be used for capital reinvestment.

SWBNO expects to recover roughly $339 million in revenues during 2022. Operating revenues are generated primarily from water and sewer user charges, though SWBNO collects a small amount of other operating revenues from penalties and miscellaneous fees. Non-operating revenues consist of drainage millage collections, interest, and other miscellaneous non-operating revenues.

2022 CAPITAL BUDGET

The 2022 Capital Budget includes 532 million in capital expenditures based on the needs of water, sewer, and drainage. SWBNO defines capital expenditures as any expenditure associated with acquiring, upgrading, and maintaining physical assets with a useful life of one year or more, such as property, plants, and equipment. Financing sources for the 2022 Capital Budget include: existing sewer bonds, Water Infrastructure Finance and Innovation Act loan, Safe Drinking Water and Clean Water loans from the EPA, grants from FEMA and the Corp of Engineers, and SWBNO cash financing or pay-go. Projects identified as “Targeted Funded Projects” are contingent upon receiving funds from identified sources.

2022 Capital Uses ($532)

■ Water ■ Sewer ■ Combo ■ Drainage

2022 Capital Sources ($383m)

■ FEMA Reimbursements ■ WIFIA
■ Pay-Go ■ Power Program (Capital Outlay, HUD CDBG, FEMA HMGP)
■ Other sources (NDR Grant, Fair Share, Ida Insurance)

BACKGROUND

ABOUT THE BUDGET PROCESS

SWBNO prepares annual operating budgets and capital budgets for the water, sewer, and drainage systems that align the financial resources to achieve the objectives of the upcoming year's plans, clearly identifying all revenue requirements, planned sources of funds, and financial performance metrics. Any reader who wants to develop a thorough understanding of the budget should begin by reading the introduction and reviewing the financial overview.

The budget document is consistent with the long-term financial plans and likewise based on reasonable assumptions for changes in revenues and expenses.

The budget process begins by assessing revenue billings, projecting millage collections and establishing estimates for funding needed to maintain the existing level of water, sewer, and drainage services. As a part of this process, various assumptions are made regarding the level of personnel services required, increases in the cost of employee benefit programs, including pension, energy and chemical cost drivers, and other major budget items.

After the annual audit report is filed, budget packets are compiled that include information needed to allow departments to review the results from the previous fiscal year and the status of their budget versus actual expenditures in the current fiscal year. Priorities for the budget season are developed with the Executive Director and the budget packets are mailed to the various departments with instructions and timelines for completion. By this time, managers should have reviewed and discussed the operating budget expenditures needed for the upcoming year with their staff. The requests are completed on the forms provided in the budget package and are due to the budget department in September, so that the budget team can review, ask questions, make corrections and provide preliminary recommendations on the alignment of requests with available funding, identified priorities and overall financial accountability. Departments are encouraged to review their position allotments and consider elimination of positions that have been vacant for long periods of time. Each department is also asked to consider how their requests align with identified performance indicators, efficiency measurements, and strategic goals.

All budget requests are discussed during scheduled Budget Hearings which are typically scheduled in October of each year. These hearings include the Executive Director, the Chief Financial Officer, Chief Administrative Officer, Budget Director and department heads with or without their immediate staff (their preference).

Based upon the results of the hearings, the prioritized requests are discussed by the leadership team, with final decisions made by Executive Director. The budget proposal is then submitted to the Finance Committee of the Board of Directors in November with final action requested in December. The 2022 operating and capital budgets were adopted by the SWBNO Board of Directors on December 15, 2021. (A copy of the corresponding resolutions can be found in the Appendix)

The Budget Department and SWBNO leadership appropriately designed the annual budget process to project spending needs. Historically, formal budget amendments at SWBNO have been infrequent and usually triggered by extreme weather events. The CFO and Budget Director have the authority to reallocate funds within each system's budget to ensure spending does not exceed the adopted budget. Any additional budget spending above the approved budget appropriation level requires an identified revenue source and the Board of Directors to amend the budget through a formal resolution. If the need arises, the CFO and Budget Department work with the Executive Director to develop and present an amended budget to the Board for approval.

OPERATING BUDGETS AND DEPARTMENTAL FOCUS AREAS

OPERATING BUDGET

Despite the ongoing COVID-19 pandemic and disruptions resulting from Hurricane Ida – both of which continue to affect the organization’s finances – the SWBNO is proud to present a balanced Operating and Maintenance (O&M) budget that meets our obligations and positions the organization for the future. A legally balanced budget is defined as having sufficient net revenues to meet the organization’s bond covenants. In order to reach a legally balanced budget the organization could not fund all expenditure requests. Executive leadership provided strategic focus areas such as financial stability, technology modernization, infrastructure resilience and reliability through preventative maintenance, and organizational and operational efficiencies to assist departments in budgeting. Senior departmental leadership worked closely with executive leadership and the budget team to adjust departmental budget requests and maintain adequate funding for the advancement of our strategic priorities. After reductions made to departmental requests, the 2022 Adopted Operating Budget is $24.1 million, or 12.1 percent, higher than the 2021 Adopted Operating Budget.

In 2022, the organization is budgeting $45 million for pay-as-you-go (or “pay-go”) capital spending from system funds. In prior years, a comparable amount was spent on capital needs from surplus system funds, but the amount was not budgeted. Given the uncertainty of the 2022 budget cycle, and the lack of surplus cash reserves, it is important to formally recognize this cost in the budget to ensure these funds are available to improve and maintain our infrastructure.

**The primary budget drivers include employee-related expenditures, services and utilities, materials and supplies, special current charges, and furniture and equipment. Employee -related expenses include salaries and wages, health insurance, payroll taxes, merit increases, pension contributions, and other employee-related expenses. Services and utilities expenses include high-pressure gas, low pressure gas, high voltage power, data processing, and other professional services. Materials and supplies expenses include chemicals, fuels, electrical parts, and other professional supplies. Special current charges include damage claims and workers’ compensation, and furniture and equipment include expenses such as hand tools and office furniture and fixtures.*

SWBNO reviews various non-cash expenses as a component of the budget process. This includes depreciation, amortization, other post-employment benefits and pension liability that are accounted for within the annual financial report and impact the calculation of net position. When considering these expenses, the 2022 operating budget rises to $453.7 million.

PERSONNEL

Historically, the organization has carried a large number of “funded vacancies,” or open positions, in the budget. In order to meet budget targets, nearly all funded vacancies were eliminated in the 2021 budget. Available resources have provided the capability to restore the hiring strength of critical positions and will continue to be closely monitored throughout calendar year 2022.

RATES, REVENUES, AND DEMOGRAPHICS

REVENUES

SWBNO has budgeted to collect roughly $339 million in revenues during 2022. As shown below, the majority of revenues for SWBNO are derived from water and sewer customer bills (81% projected in 2022) with an additional 17.6% projected to come from non-revenue drainage millages. By Louisiana State law, water, sewer and drainage revenues are separate and cannot be used to support any other activities. For this reason, each source is tracked separately, and the expenses for each system are carefully recorded so that the correct revenue is used only for the correct expense.

REGIONAL DEMOGRAPHICS

Anticipated water and sewer rate projections are based upon anticipated water usage. This requires an analysis of the number of customers, their typical water use, and a variety of economic trends such as population changes, unemployment, average income, etc.

The consolidated city-parish of New Orleans is located on the Mississippi River delta and is the most populous city in Louisiana, with just under 400,000 residents in the City and almost 1.3 million in the greater metropolitan area. New Orleans is world-renowned as a traveler destination, and the City is described by many as being the most unique in the United States – a distinction that has surely contributed to the City’s $5.5 billion tourism and convention industry. Drawing on its extensive cross-cultural and multilingual heritage, New Orleans is a showcase for the region’s distinctive music, creole cuisine, and annual festivals and celebrations. The City also boasts several professional sports teams, has three nationally protected areas, and hosts the annual World Cultural Economic Forum, which promotes cultural and economic development opportunities around the world.

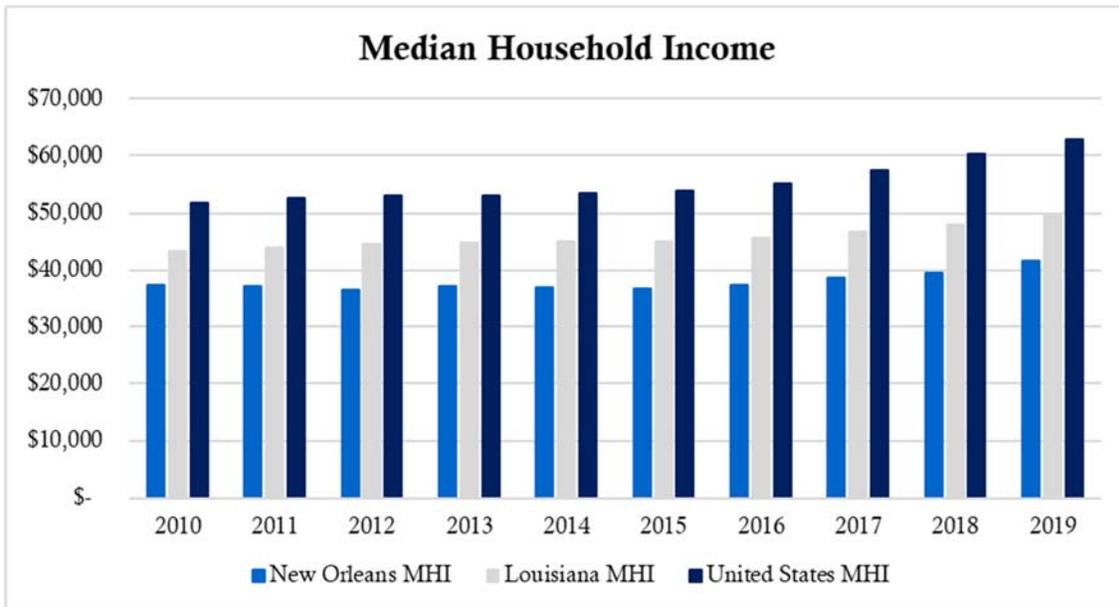

Following Hurricane Katrina in 2005, the City’s population increased substantially as displaced residents began to move back to New Orleans. Since 2010, the growth rate has slowed significantly.

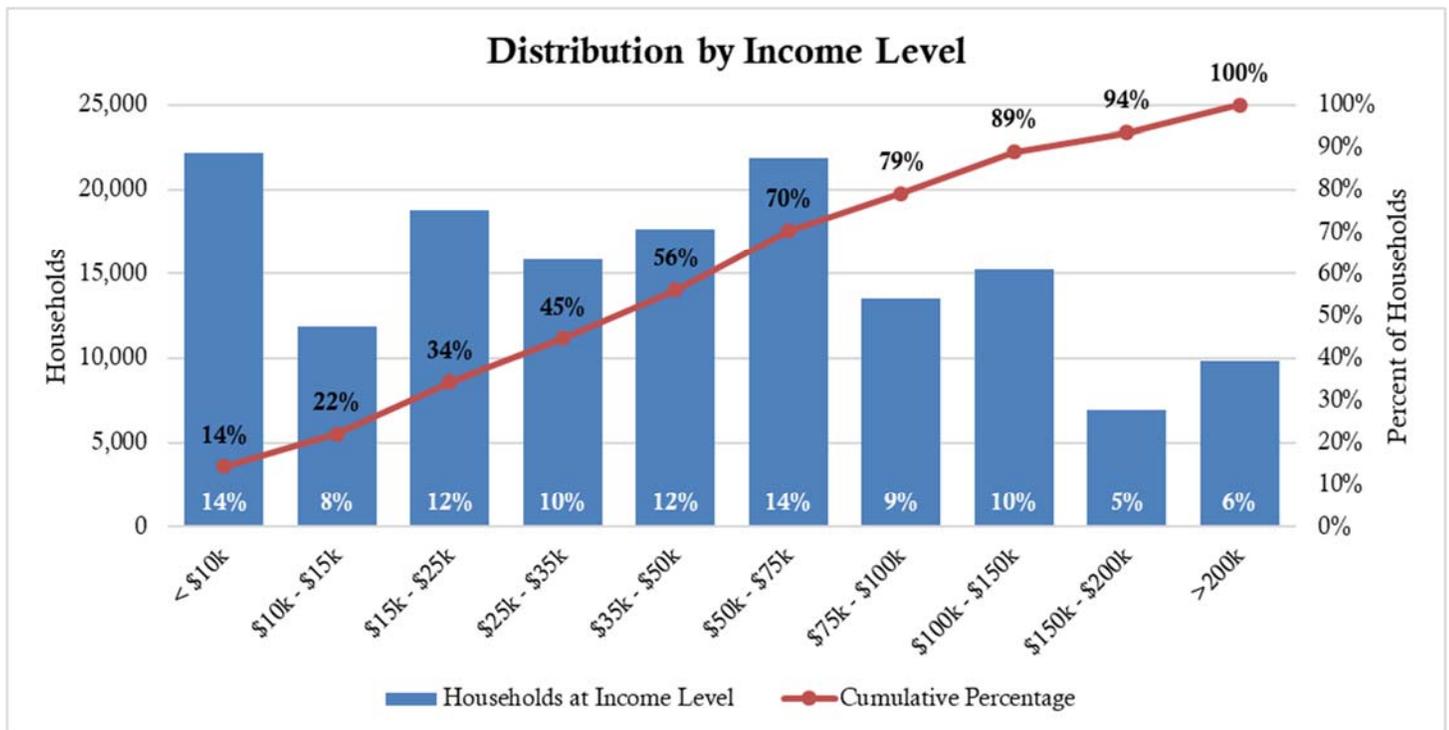

The City’s 2021 unemployment rate was low at 4.8% but compares unfavorably to the national unemployment rate of 3.9%. The largest employment sectors are trade, transportation, and utilities; education and health services; and leisure and hospitality. Some of the City’s largest employers are listed below.

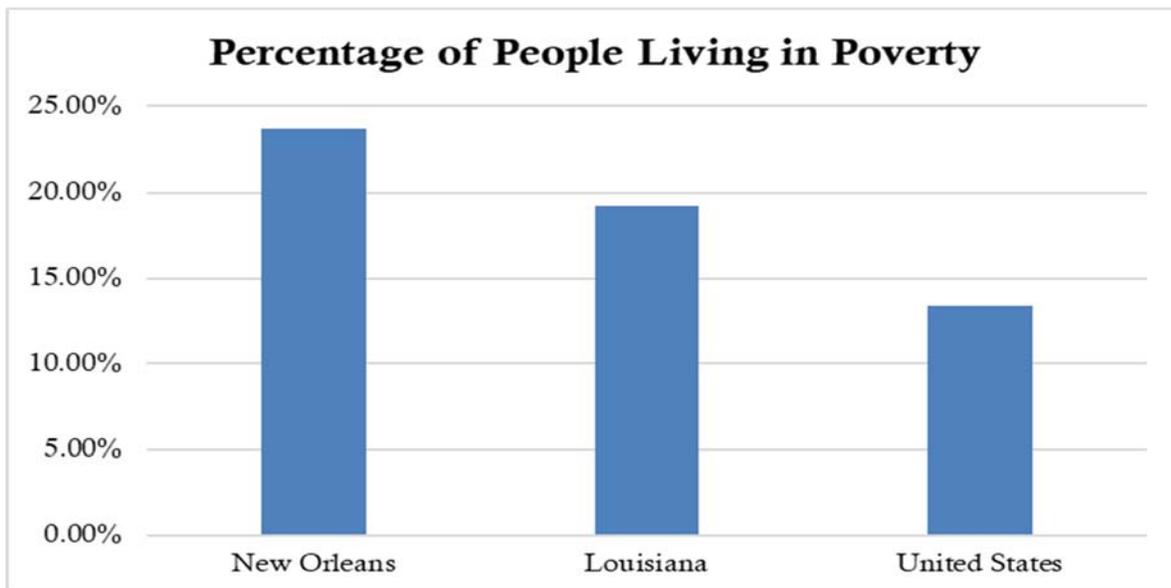

Company	Employees
Ochsner Health System	16,000
Ochsner Medical Center	7,832
The University of New Orleans	3,425
Harrah’s Casino	2,200
Children’s Hospital	2,139
Tulane University	2,000

There is significant disparity between the parishes within the state. The US Census Bureau estimates the 2019 median household income (MHI) at $41,604, which is considerably lower than the MHI for both Louisiana ($49,469) and the United States ($62,843).

When household income data is divided into income levels, it highlights the disparity of income among City residents. As shown, an estimated 35% of people in New Orleans earn less than $25,000 per year.

One of the most telling comparisons is the poverty rate. In 2019, the US Census Bureau estimated that a quarter of people in the City live on annual income that falls below the Federal Poverty Level.

Affordability concerns in the utility industry are increasing as rising water and sewer costs continuously outpace growth in wages and inflation. SWBNO recognizes that providing affordable water and service is critical for ratepayers based on the unique set of challenges facing the City of New Orleans.

CUSTOMER DEMAND

As noted earlier in this section, the City’s population increased by more than 100,000 people between 2008 and 2012 due to residents moving back during the recovery from Hurricane Katrina, and the population has continued to inch upward since then. Due to increasingly efficient plumbing fixtures installed during the rehabilitation of existing homes, a general increase in conservation awareness, and other water-saving efforts, customer demand has remained fairly stable over the last decade, even during the years with the greatest population growth. SWBNO needs to explore and identify all potential revenue sources to meet existing costs.

RATES, FEES AND CHARGES

Revenue to fund water and sewer utility operations is generated primarily through customer user charges. User charges are the monthly service charge and volumetric rates applied to monthly consumption. Monthly service charges, or meter charges, scale up according to the size of the customer's meter to reflect the readiness-to-serve, or potential demand on the utility system. Water volumetric rates are applied to the customer's monthly water consumption to determine the total volumetric charges, and the rate per 1,000 gallons varies based on the amount of water used. Sewer volumetric charges for residential customers are based on 85% of the volume of water used during the month. Commercial customers pay sewer volumetric rates on 100% of the monthly water consumption.

In 2020, SWBNO implemented the final rate increase of an eight-year utility rate program that was approved in 2012 and implemented in 2013. The current rate structure and rates reflect a 10% increase from 2019 rates. A new rate study will be completed in 2022.

Meter Size	Water Rates
	2021	2022
Service Charge (per Month)
5/8" Meter (1)	$ 8.69	$ 8.69
Quantity Charge (per 1,000gal)
First 3,000 gal	$ 5.80	$ 5.80
Next 17,000 gal	9.87	9.87
Next 980,000 gal	7.76	7.76
Over 1,000,000 gal	6.50	6.50

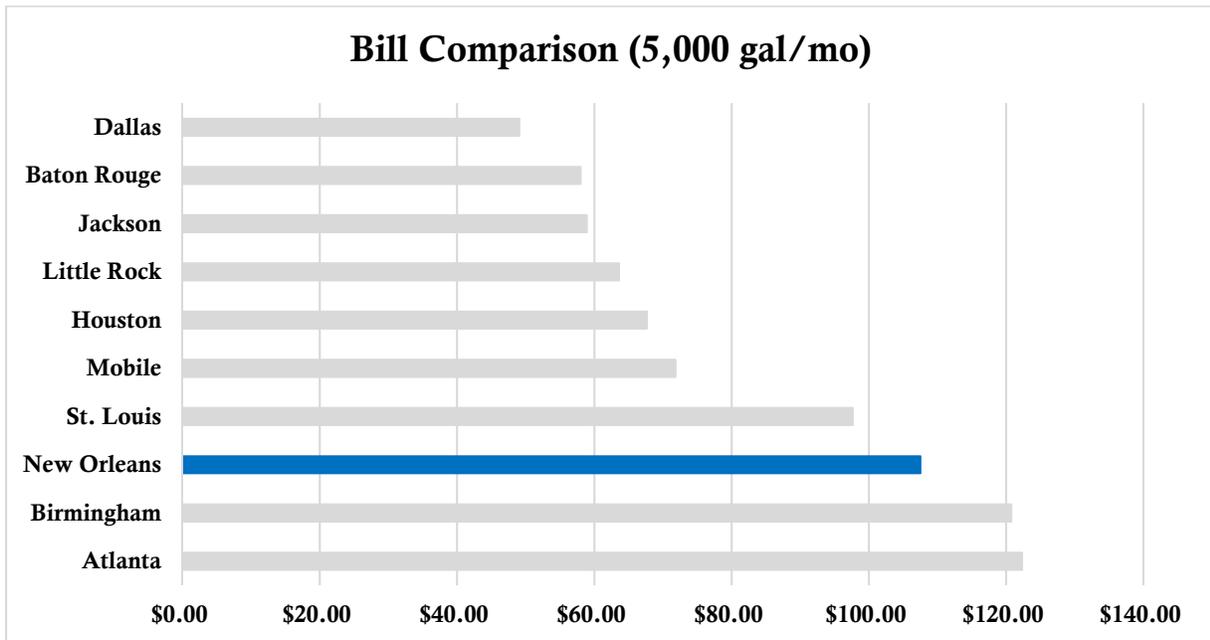

(1) Meter sizes vary by customer. 5/8" meter size is the most common size for residential customers.

Meter Size	Sewer Rates
	2021	2022
Service Charge (per Month)
5/8" Meter (1)	$ 24.87	$ 24.87
Quantity Charge (per 1,000gal)
All Consumption (2)	8.66	8.66

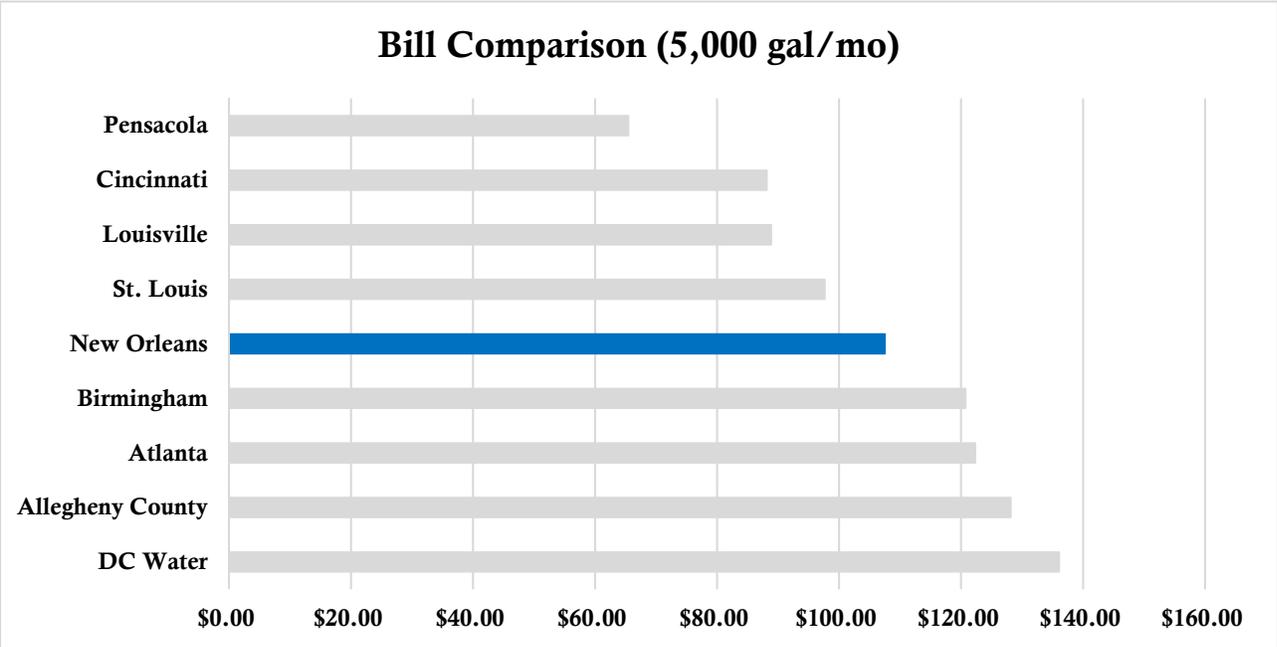

(2) For residential customers: consumption is based on 85% of metered water consumption to allow 15% water use for outdoor purposes.

RATE COMPARISON

The monthly bill analysis shows the 2021 typical residential customer water and sewer monthly bill for SWBNO compared to other regional utilities. SWBNO's rates must address geographic and regulatory challenges that not all other regional utilities face.

A different monthly bill analysis is presented that compares SWBNO with utilities that are under federal consent decrees. The most significant challenge for SWBNO is that SWBNO is under a consent decree with the Environmental Protection Agency, which requires heavy investment in infrastructure under constrained timelines. In this analysis the SWBNO customer bills are more representative of the median bill.

WATER AND SEWER RATE UPDATE

Factors Impacting Revenue:

There are several factors that impact the revenue a utility is able to generate, including:

- Elasticity
- Downward trend of recent demand
- Conservation
- Billing data concerns and uncollectible
- Affordability
- COVID-19

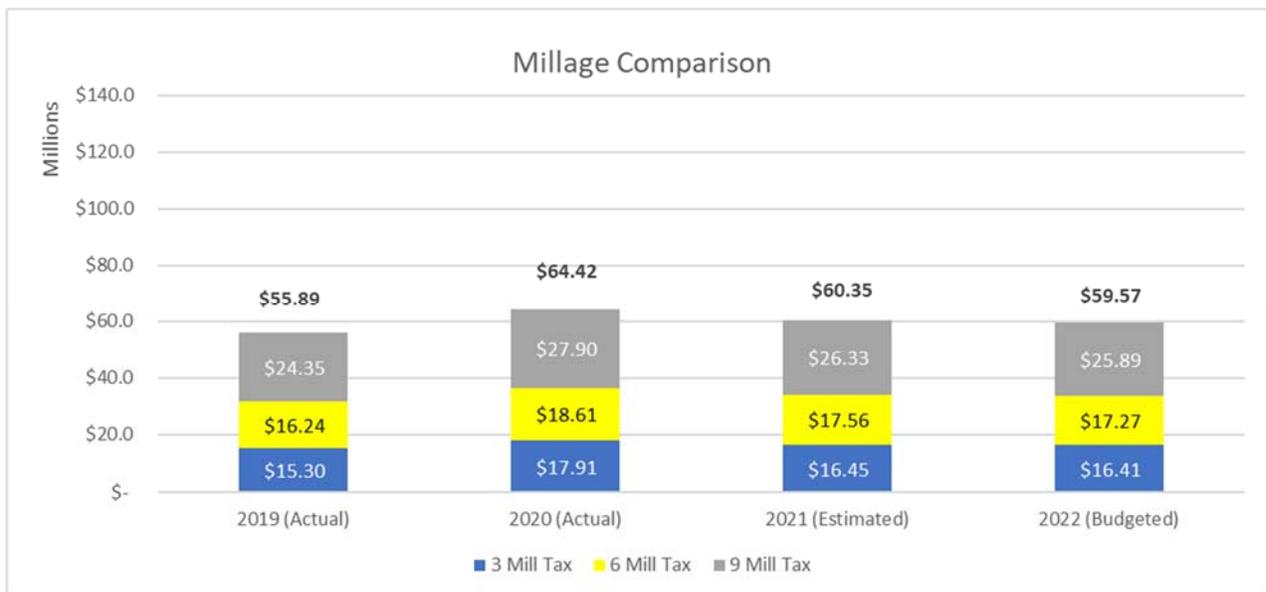

These factors have influenced the anticipated level of water consumption and sewer demand SWBNO is incorporating into the FY 2022 revenue projections.

Drainage Revenue

The drainage utility service is funded through ad valorem property taxes:

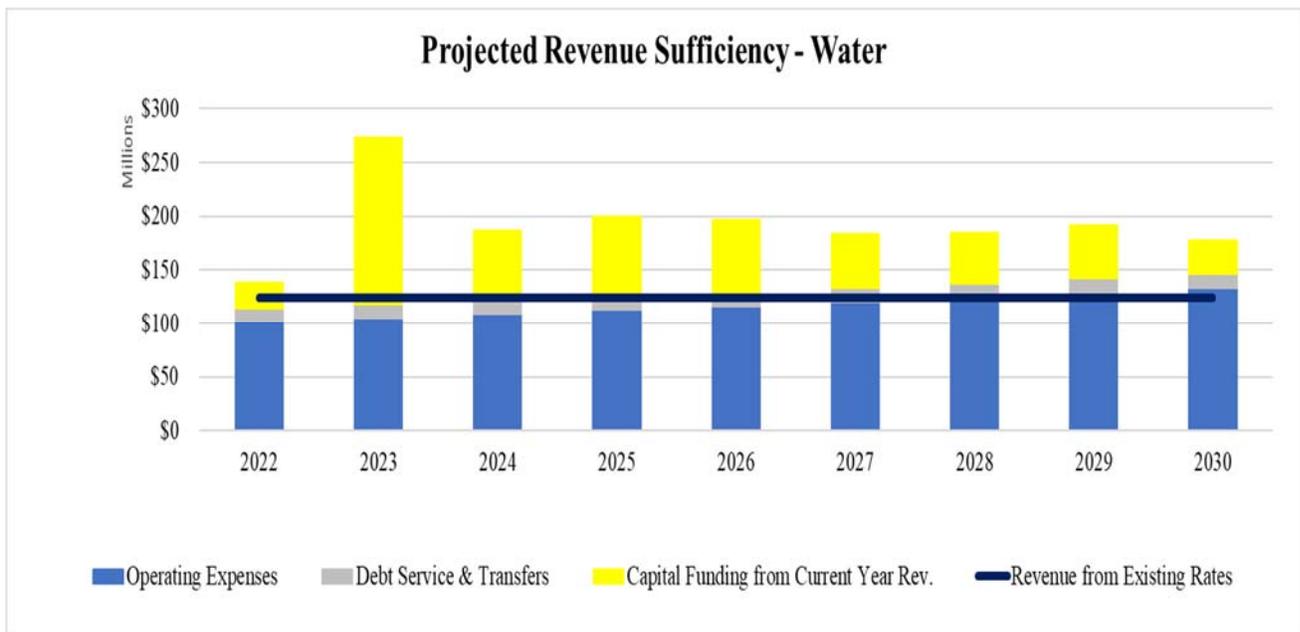

- Three Mill
- Six Mill
- Nine Mill

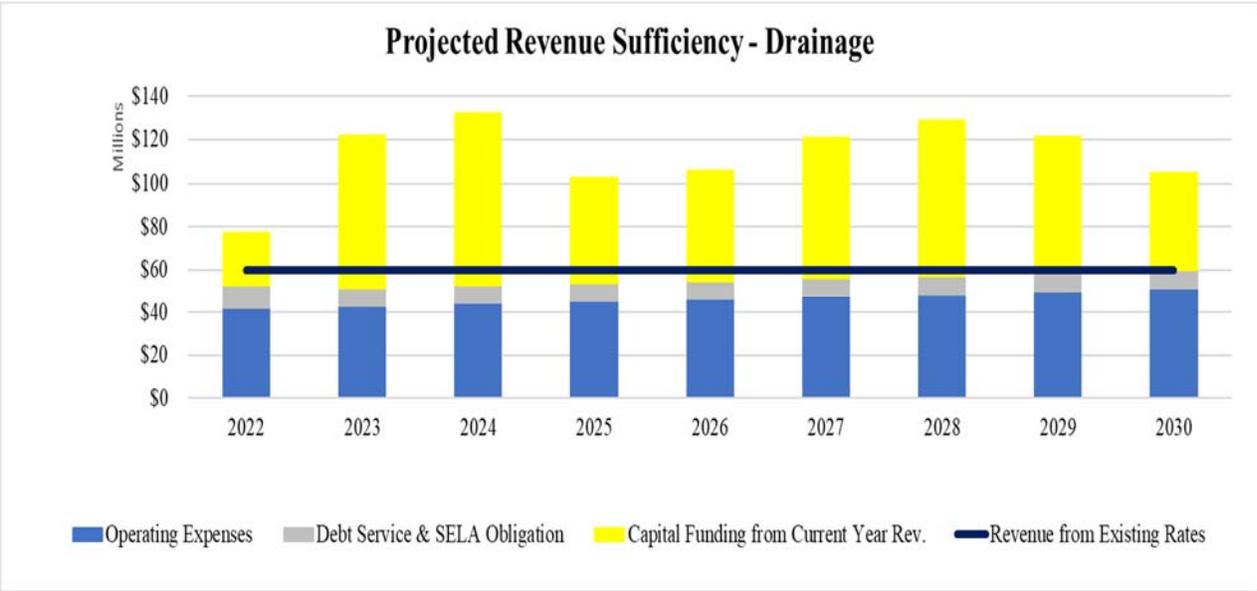

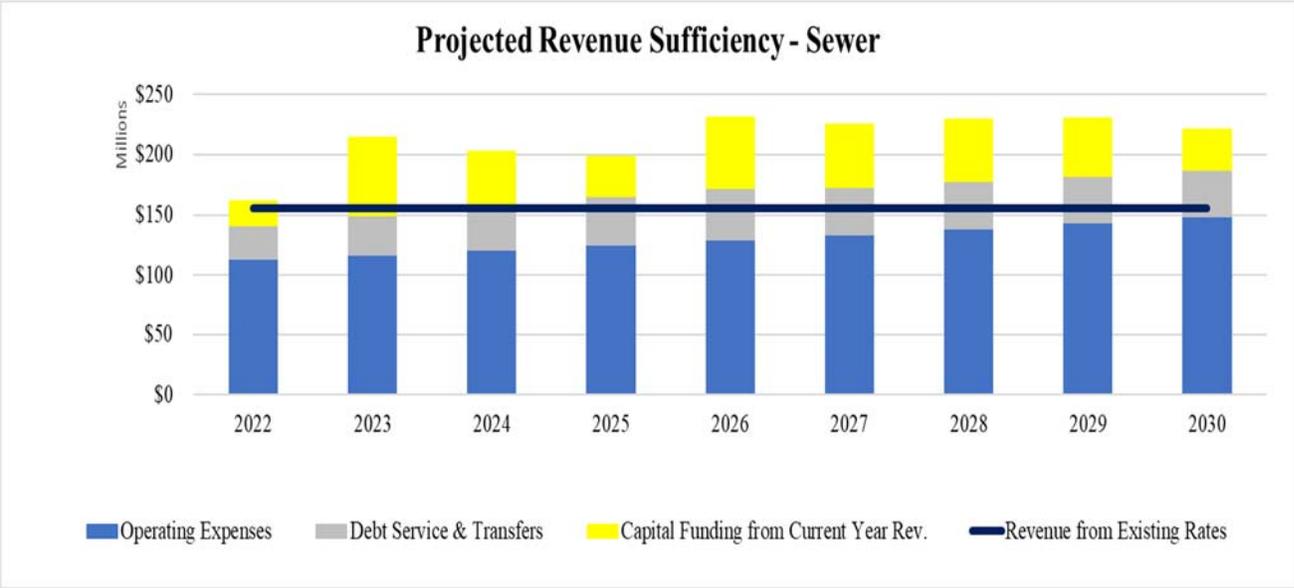

These millages provide the most stable type of revenue. However, this also means that the utility cannot increase revenues through rate adjustments, and thus is limited by the revenue these millages generate. The anticipated revenue for the drainage utility is $59 million.

System Revenue Sufficiency

As shown in the graphic below, growing operating costs and continued reinvestment in the SWBNO's capital infrastructure will continue to push total utility costs higher through 2030. Without additional revenues, the existing rates will not be sufficient to fully recover system costs in future years and additional rate increases will be required. SWBNO is currently performing both a rate study and affordability study to ensure that rates for 2022 and thereafter are sufficient to fully recover system costs and do so in an equitable and affordable manner. The magnitude of the future rate increases is unknown at this time, but SWBNO will explore all revenue options to keep rates as affordable as possible while maintaining clean, safe, and reliable water, sewer, and drainage services.

DEBT MANAGEMENT

SWBNO regularly issues debt to support its Capital Improvement Program. In 2021, SWBNO closed on a $275 million WIFIA loan that allows the utility to better serve the people of New Orleans by meeting the remaining obligations of the Consent Decree and protecting the environment. EPA estimates SWBNO will save $100 million in financing costs over the life of the WIFIA loan versus traditional bond financing.

Bond Rating and Debt Service Coverage

The bond rating on the senior lien debt from Standard and Poor (S&P) and Fitch are shown below.

SWBNO Ratings	S&P	Fitch
Sewer	A	BBB+
Water	A-	BBB+
Drainage	AA-	A

One of the most important financial metrics to SWBNO is Debt Service Coverage, which demonstrates the Board's ability to meet its annual debt obligations. The calculation for Debt Service Coverage is established in the General Bond Resolutions related to the debt issuances and is calculated by dividing Funds Available for Debt Service (Adjusted Revenues less Net Operating Expenses) by annual debt service payments. SWBNO is legally required to maintain Debt Service Coverage of 125% with respect to Senior Debt and 110% of aggregate Senior and Subordinate Debt. As shown, historically SWBNO has maintained a strong Debt Service Coverage ratio and is projected to do the same in 2022. Strong levels of Debt Service Coverage are seen favorably by rating agencies and help SWBNO save money on long-term interest costs.

Estimated Fiscal Year 2022 Coverage as of 12/31/2021:

Southeast Louisiana Project

In 2010, the Coastal Protection and Restoration Authority of Louisiana entered into agreements with the Department of the Army for the Southeast Louisiana (SELA PPA and SELA DPA, the “Agreements”) to provide flood damage reduction and interior drainage for Orleans and Jefferson Parishes in southeast Louisiana (the “Project”). The Agreements set forth the obligations of the federal government and non-federal sponsors, including the Board, regarding the construction and the operation, maintenance, repair, rehabilitation, and replacement of the Project. For the projects, the federal government is responsible for 65% of the project costs and the non-federal sponsors are responsible for the remaining 35%.

Under the Agreements, the Department of the Army, subject to the availability of funds appropriated by the Congress of the United States, shall design and construct specified work at 100% federal expense. The Board will be allowed to defer payment of its required non-federal contribution of funds of 35% and to pay said contribution of funds with interest over a period of not more than 30 years from the date of completion of the project or separable element of the project. The interest rate to be used in computing the interest shall be determined by the Secretary of the Treasury, taking into consideration average market yields on outstanding marketable obligations of the United States with remaining periods of maturity comparable to the payment period during the month preceding the Government fiscal year in which the first federal construction contract for such separable element is awarded to the SELA PPA, plus a premium of one-eighth of one percentage point for transaction costs.

Capital Program Budget

In addition to operating and maintenance budgets, SWBNO is responsible for supporting a capital program that allows for the repair, rehabilitation, and replacement of water, sewer, and drainage capital assets.

Due to limited access to capital resources, SWBNO establishes annual capital budgets by prioritizing all capital projects and determining which projects can and should be funded in each year. Most capital projects included in the 2022 Capital Budget are categorized as either “critical,” “urgent,” or “necessary.”

SWBNO has many financial needs in terms of capital improvements. SWBNO has identified needed asset and infrastructure investment that includes $2 billion over the next 10 years. As a municipal entity, SWBNO does not have access to equity markets, so all projects must be funded through debt issuances, grants, or cash generated from user charges. Debt issuances are an attractive means for raising capital due to the ability to spread payments over many years at a low cost, limiting the impact to SWBNO ratepayers. However, due to the size of SWBNO’s current debt load, debt issuances must be managed pragmatically to avoid over-leveraging the system. Therefore, the entire program of capital needs cannot be funded in 2022.

The 2022 Capital Budget includes $532 million in capital expenditures and provides for the following activities:

- Continue the Joint Infrastructure Recovery Request (JIRR) Programs in conjunction with City of New Orleans DPW.
- Comply with regulatory requirements under the Sewer Consent Decree.
- Rehabilitate and upgrade facilities at the Carrollton Water Plant.
- Participate in drainage system improvements in coordination with SELA Program.
- Continue Automated Meter Infrastructure project.

Financing sources for the 2022 Capital Budget include: existing sewer bonds, Water Infrastructure Finance and Innovation Act loan, Safe Drinking Water and Clean Water loans from the EPA, grants from FEMA and the Corp of Engineers, and SWBNO cash financing or pay-go.

SWBNO recognizes the vital importance of continuing infrastructure repair and replacement and has updated its long-range capital forecast to address the priority needs of the system. The 10-year Capital Improvement Plan (CIP) is updated annually and contains approximately $2.4 billion of projects.

Operating and Maintenance Expenditures By System

Expenditures

By Louisiana State Law, SWBNO is responsible for maintaining three separate operating systems:

- Water System
- Sewer System
- Drainage System

Revenues for each system can only be expended on the cost related to the applicable system; therefore, expenditures are budgeted and tracked separately for each system. This section provides detailed operating budgets for each system.

Water Fund

Water System revenue is comprised of three main categories:

- Water Sales (User Charges)
- Other Operating Revenue
- Non-Operating Revenue.

Revenue to fund water operations is largely from user charge revenue, or water sales. In fact, water sales revenue was 97% of the total water revenue in the 2021 budget and is at 98% for the 2022 budget. Other operating and non-operating account for approximately $2.6 million in revenue in addition to water sales.

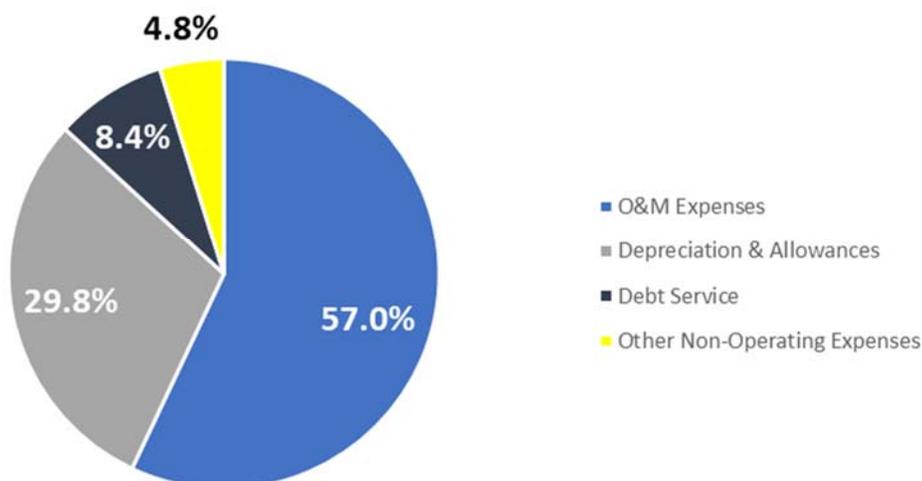

2022 Projected Water Sales by Class

The vast majority of SWBNO’s customer accounts are residential but revenue recovery by class results in approximately 56.8% of water sales revenue from residential customers and 43.2 % from non-residential customers.

Sewer Fund

Like the Water System, Sewer System revenue is comprised of three main categories:

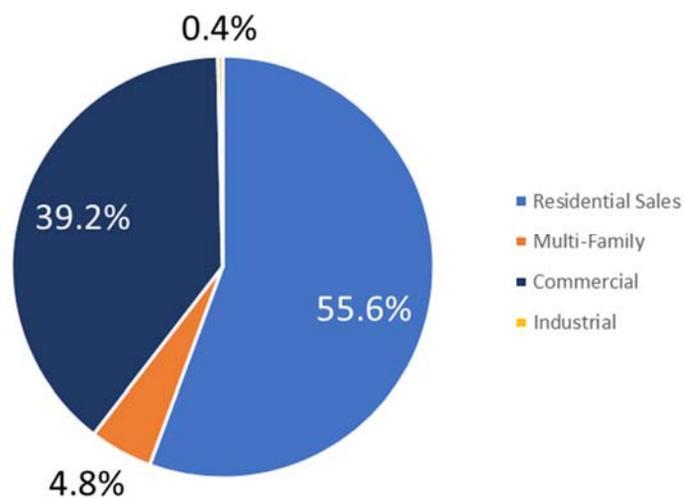

- Sewer Sales (User Charges)
- Other Operating Revenue
- Non-Operating Revenue.

Revenue to fund sewer operations is largely from user charge revenue, or sewer sales. In fact, sewer sales revenue was 98% of the total sewer revenue in both the 2021 budget and 99% in the 2022 budget. Other operating and non-operating account for approximately $1.5 million in revenue in addition to sewer sales.

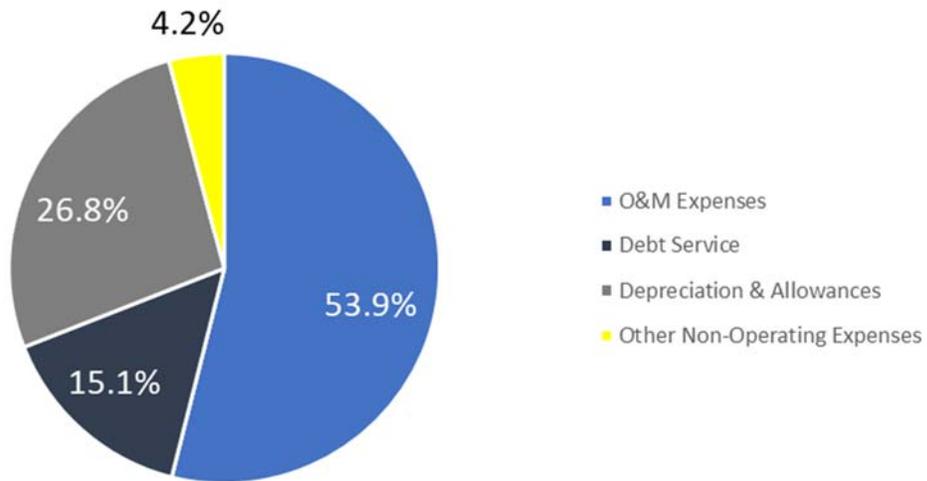

The vast majority of SWBNO's customer accounts are residential but revenue recovery by class results in approximately 60.4% of sewer sales revenue from residential customers and 39.6% from non-residential customers.

Drainage Fund

Drainage System revenue is comprised of two main categories:

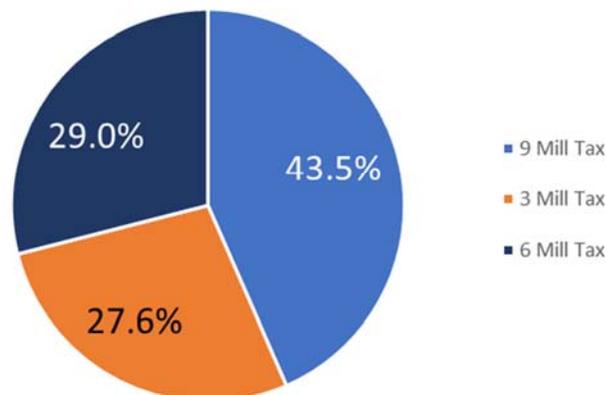

- Ad Valorem Taxes.
- Non-Operating Revenue.

Revenue to fund drainage operations is largely from ad valorem taxes. In fact, ad valorem tax revenue was 95% of the total drainage revenue in the 2021 budget and 99% in the 2022 budget. Other non-operating revenues account for approximately $151.6 thousand in revenue in addition to ad valorem taxes.

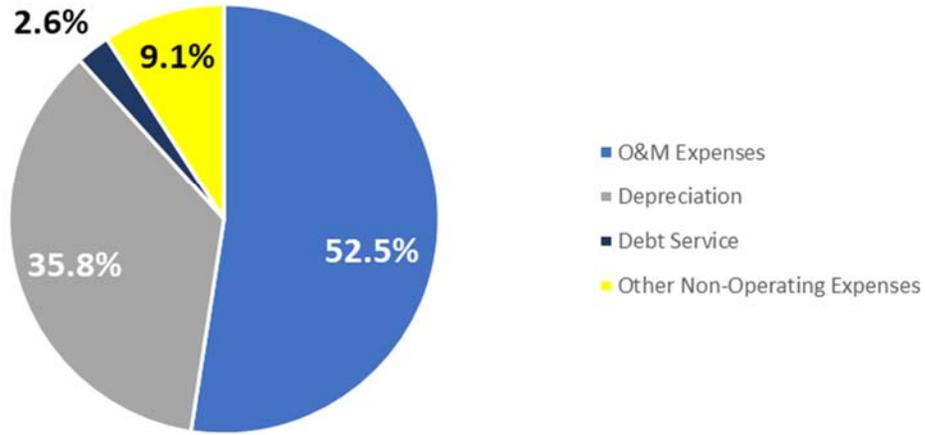

Ad valorem taxes are assessed on a 9 mill, 6 mill, and 3 mill basis. As shown, the 9 mill group accounts for almost half of the drainage system revenues.

Accrued Liability: An entity's obligation to pay for goods and services that have been provided for which invoices have not yet been received.

Ad Valorem Tax: A tax based on the assessed value of an item, such as real estate or personal property.

Allocable Cost: A cost is allocable to a project if goods or services involved are chargeable or assignable in accordance with the relative benefits received by the projects.

Amortization: an accounting technique used to periodically lower the book value of a loan or an intangible asset over a set period of time. Concerning a loan, amortization focuses on spreading out loan payments over time. When applied to an asset, amortization is similar to depreciation.

Appropriation: is when money is set aside money for a specific and particular purpose or purposes. A company or a government appropriates funds in order to delegate cash for the necessities of its operations.

Audit: The process of examining an organization's (or individual's) financial records to determine if they are accurate and in accordance with any applicable rules (including accepted accounting standards), regulations, and laws.

Annualization: A predictive tool that estimates the amount or rate of something for an entire year, based on data from part of a year.

Balanced Budget: Budget when revenues are equal to or greater than total expenses.

Board of Liquidation City Debt: Has the power to issue bonds in any manner permitted by state or municipal law and the City Charter and to manage its affairs, under the City Charter on behalf of the City of New Orleans, in accordance with the provisions of applicable state or municipal law.

Bonds: A bond is a fixed-income instrument that represents a loan made by an investor to a borrower (typically corporate or governmental). A bond could be thought of as an I.O.U. between the lender and borrower that includes the details of the loan and its payments. Bonds are used by companies, municipalities, states, and sovereign governments to finance projects and operations. Owners of bonds are debtholders, or creditors, of the issuer.

Budget: An estimation of revenue and expenses over a specified future period of time.

Budget Variance Report: A financial performance report that presents the difference between the budgeted or baseline amount of expense or revenue and the actual amount. The budget variance is favorable when the actual revenue is higher than the budget or when the actual expense is less than the budget.

Capital assets: Property that is expected to generate value over a long period of time, such as a building, machinery, and vehicles.

Government Account Standards Board (GASB): The source of generally accepted accounting principles used by state and local governments in the United States.

Master Indenture of Trust: Also known as "Indenture", a governing agreement in a bond contract between a bond issuer and a trustee that represents the bondholders' interest by outlining the borrowing mechanics and covenants that affect every obligated group member on all debt financing.

Millage Rate: The property tax rate payable in New Orleans, Louisiana for each $1,000 of assessed value of a property. The rate is calculated by dividing the property value by 1,000 and then multiplying the result by the millage rate.

Modified Accrual: Basis of accounting used in conjunction with the current financial resources measurement focus that modifies the accrual basis of accounting in two important ways: Revenues are not recognized until they are measurable and available and (2) expenditures are recognized in the period in which governments in general normally liquidate the related liability rather than when the liability is first incurred.

National Association of Regulatory Utility Commissioners: The national association representing the state public service commissioners who regulate essential utility services, including energy, telecommunications, and water.

Net Position: Difference between assets and deferred outflows of resources and liabilities and deferred inflows of resources.

Non-Operating Revenues: Value of the revenue that is derived from activities not related to the organization's core operations during the reporting period.

It contains estimates of the total value of resources required for the performance of the operation including reimbursable work or services for others.

Operating Cash Reserve Calculation: The annual operating cash reserve amount will be calculated based upon the requirements contained with the SWBNO Indenture, excluding any debt service reserve funds. While the reserve goal is 180 days of cash on hand for all systems, the Indenture requirement is 90 days for both the water and sewer systems and there is no Indenture cash reserve requirement for the drainage system.

Proprietary Fund: Funds that focus on the determination of operating income, changes in net position, financial position, and cash flows. There are two types of proprietary funds: enterprise funds and internal service funds.

Statement of Cash Flows: A financial statement that summarizes the amount of cash and cash equivalents entering and leaving an entity.

Statement of Changes in Net Assets: Details the change between the current and prior period for net asset balances.

Statement of Revenues and Expenses: Also known as the profit and loss statement, this financial statement primarily focuses on company's revenues and expenses during a particular period.

Straight Line Depreciation: The process of expensing an asset over a longer period of time. It is calculated by dividing the difference between an asset's cost and its expected salvage value by the number of years it is expected to be used.

Financial Policy

Policy Summary

This Finance Policy sets forth the financial management practices of the Sewerage & Water Board of New Orleans (SWBNO). It has been developed in alignment with best practices, and to promote financial resiliency and continuity. The financial policy of SWBNO provides a framework within which staff can operate to realize the agency's strategic intent, promote long-term thinking while still enhance innovation and adoption of public financial management best practices. Accordingly, the SWBNO will:

- Work to achieve financial stability through a standardized set of practices and procedures;
- Maintain operating cash reserves goals equivalent to a target of 180 days of prior year audit operations and maintenance costs but no less than the reserve requirements contained in SWBNO's general bond resolutions;
- Maintain senior debt service coverage of 125 percent;
- Obtain the highest possible investment grade bond rates to ensure the lowest practical cost of debt necessary to finance SWBNO's long-term capital program;
- Create and update annually a ten-year financial plan for approval of the Board of Directors; and
- Develop a sound investment policy.

Policy

Financial Planning

The SWBNO will develop and update annually a ten-year financial plan that identifies the financial resources needed to achieve the objectives of the strategic plan; identify options for creation of resources; identify shortages between what is needed and what may be funded; and, describe the consequences of under-funding. This financial plan will be based on the following principles:

- The capital requirements for the financial plan will be based on management's understanding of all facilities that will be needed during the ten-year planning horizon.
- The SWBNO will endeavor to provide a reasonable balance between operational objectives and risks with ratepayer impacts.
- The financial plans will identify reasonable assumptions for changes in revenues and expenses.
- The financial plan will project revenues, expenses, and assets for the next ten years in detail adequate to compute standard financial ratios for liquidity, efficiency, and debt service coverage.
- The financial plan will identify the amounts and timing of contemplated rate increases, millage increases, and debt issues.
- The financial plan will be reviewed annually and updated when conditions materially change.
- The financial plan will be reviewed by an outside expert for completeness and reasonableness at least once every five years.

The SWBNO will develop and implement a plan and policy for the establishment of revenue rates and fees and coordinate with the City and the Board of Liquidation City Debt to implement such policy.

Financial Budgeting

The SWBNO will prepare annual operating budgets and capital budgets for the water, sewer and drainage systems that align the financial resources to achieve the objectives of the upcoming year's plans, clearly identifying all revenue requirements, planned sources of funds, and financial performance metrics.

The budget documents will be consistent with the long-term financial plans and likewise will be based on reasonable assumptions for changes in revenues and expenses. The document will be published annually in a format that meets the criteria for the Distinguished Budget Presentation Award Program established by the Government Finance Officers Association

Financial Accounting

The SWBNO will use a chart of accounts consisting of object codes, organization codes and activity codes that is compatible with the Uniform System of Accounts for Class A Water Utilities published by the National Association of Regulatory Utility Commissioners. Management will ensure the reasonableness of estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities.

Investments will be reported at fair value at year-end. Gains or losses on dispositions will be determined using the specific identification method. Materials and supplies inventories will be stated at the lower of average cost or market at the end of each fiscal year.

Property, plant and equipment are carried at historical cost. The Board will capitalize moveable equipment with a value of $10,000 or greater, as well as stationary, network and other equipment with a value of $5,000 or greater and all real estate. The cost of additions to capital includes contracted work, direct labor, materials, and allocable cost. Contributed capital assets will be recorded at their estimated fair value at the date of donation. The Board will apply the straight-line method of depreciation to the estimated useful lives of the various classes of depreciable property or as required by the accounting standards applied by the auditors.

Annual pension contribution costs will be approved by the Board of Directors within the annual budget process based upon recommended actuarially computed contributions using the entry age normal cost method.

The accrued liability for various types of claims will be based upon an estimate by management of the eventual loss on the claims arising prior to year-end, including claims incurred but not yet reported as well as estimates of both future payments of losses and related claims adjustment and expense. Estimated expenses and recoveries will be based upon a case-by-case review.

SWBNO will create and maintain an accounting manual to provide guidance for all SWBNO personnel.

Financial Reporting

The SWBNO will prepare an audited Statement of Revenues, Expenses, and Changes in Net Assets, a Statement of Net Assets, and a Statement of Cash Flows on an annual basis for the water, sewerage, and drainage systems. Quarterly, unaudited financial statements will be produced for review by the Board of Directors as well as to support any financial planning or debt issuance activities.

The financial statements will be prepared in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America and in line with guidance established by the Governmental Accounting Standards Board. Any variations adopted will be identified within the annual audit.

The financial statements will be prepared on the accrual basis of accounting. SWBNO will publish annual audited financial statements in a Comprehensive Annual Financial Report that meet criteria for excellence established by the Government Finance Officers Association. The report will include a discussion of the Board's activities by the Executive Director. The report will also include management's discussion and analysis of the financial results, as well as any other supplemental information needed to ensure understanding by the reader of the financial report. The report will include footnotes that adequately describe the accounting policies and practices.

The Board will review monthly financial reports that include budget to actual comparisons (excluding non-cash items) by system type and a cashflow report. These reports will be distributed on a timely basis with management comments discussing and analyzing the results. The reporting will compare current period results with previous period results as well as budgeted results. Unusual or one-time revenues and expenses will be clearly identified and explained. These reports are not financial statements, but may reflect certain information included in financial statements.

The Board will prepare its financial reports as a Business Type Activity.

Responsibilities

The Budget Manager is responsible for Financial Planning and Budgeting, subject to the approval of the Executive Director and the Board of Directors. The Controller is responsible for Financial Accounting and timely and accurate Reporting. The Treasurer is responsible for cashflow reporting and investment management. The Executive Director will identify to the Board of Directors any and all occasions when SWBNO is not in compliance with this policy and will develop and present a plan to the Board of Directors within sixty days to restore full compliance within one year. The Board of Directors will promptly notify the Board of Liquidation City Debt of any changes to this policy. The Chief Financial Officer (CFO) shall review this policy no less than every five (5) years.

WHEREAS, prior to taking any decisive action in connection with sewerage service charges, and at least thirty days before setting rates, the Board notified the Board of Liquidation, City Debt and the City Council of New Orleans of its intention, and thereafter held three public hearings to discuss the proposed new charges which public hearings were held on the following dates and times and locations:
